CHAIRMAN HOLLOWAY TO SEEK STIMULUS FUNDING FOR MILWAUKEE COUNTY

In the absence of leadership from the County Executive, Chairman will submit list of possible projects

Milwaukee, WI – Milwaukee County Board Chairman Lee Holloway released the following statement on his efforts to secure federal economic stimulus funding for Milwaukee County:

“In the absence of leadership from the County Executive, I am stepping forward on behalf of the residents of Milwaukee County. By Thursday of next week, I will submit a list of capital and infrastructure improvements for consideration as part of the federal stimulus package. Governor Jim Doyle is working with the federal government on the Wisconsin’s economic stimulus projects, and I am working with him to ensure that Milwaukee County submits a list of projects to stimulate our local economy. This is a bigger issue than just Scott Walker. This is an attempt by the incoming Presidential administration to get our entire nation moving again. I do not want to see 71 other counties in Wisconsin and 49 other states receive stimulus funding while Milwaukee County is left behind.”
